

international debate education association

Student Evaluation Form

Students should

Comments

1. respect their peers

students observe appropriate conventions of turn-taking and cross-examination

yes no unobservable

students refrain from unacceptable behavior, for example - undue aggressiveness, belittling commentary or name-calling, rudeness or nasty humor and other inappropriate behavior

yes no unobservable

students remain sensitive to and respectful of cultural differences

yes no unobservable

students provide a positive and supportive atmosphere for other students

yes no unobservable

2. practice intellectual honesty students don't put forth arguments that are either misleading or that distort the truth

yes no unobservable

students present responsible arguments that are logical and ethical

yes no unobservable

students use ethical research methods, citing truthfully, crediting thoughts whenever necessary, never fabricating

yes no unobservable

3. actively engage their communities, and should demonstrate civic virtue students share their expertise with others

yes no unobservable

students develop and cultivate an interest in issues that affect the life of the community by researching such issues and raising awareness of them among the general public, through public events and actions

yes no unobservable